

Teaching and Learning Conversations

Fall 2016

Brown Bag Lunch

ADDRESSING TEACHING CHALLENGES THROUGH PRATT'S LEARNING MANAGEMENT SYSTEM (LMS)

Open to all interested faculty and staff

November 3, 2016

12:30-1:30

Pratt Library, Project Lounge (2nd floor)

Coffee and snacks will be served

Chris Jensen will lead the conversation. Chris Jensen began his career teaching in the New York City public schools as a Teach for America Fellow. Since moving into higher education, Chris has focused on methods for diversifying the student-centered learning experience in his classroom. He has been an enthusiastic user of Pratt's Moodle-based Learning Management System since arriving in 2007, and has developed a variety of approaches for using the LMS to foster student learning. You can learn more about Chris on his website (<http://www.christopherxjjensen.com/>).
